ST. THERESE NEWS

St. Therese students and staff were excited to host this year's Advent Retreat "Home for the Holidays" on November 25-27th. The retreat was led by Fr. Joshua Grandmaison (a former St. Therese alumnus) and was enjoyed by all. Since the retreat, students have been busy with classes, midterms, and fulfilling various roles at the parish on Sundays. The parish "Meet and Greet" on December 4th was a lovely experience for students to have an opportunity to interact with and get to know members of the community better. Many students also bundled up and thoroughly enjoyed the "Christmas on Main" gathering, and "lighting up the park". Students return from Christmas break and start Term 2 on January 4th. Our next "Come and See" for prospective students is February 21-24th, 2023. Stay tuned for details regarding the upcoming Lenten Conference which will be held February 25th-27th.

May all the blessings of the Lord be yours in abundance in the New Year!

From all the Staff and Students,

Chronicles how the author became Putin's number one enemy by exposing the Russian leader's campaign to steal and launder hundreds of billions of dollars and kill anyone who stands in his way.

"After the loss of her mother and her own battle with breast cancer, Joanna Teale returns to her graduate research. She throws herself into her work from dusk to dawn, until her solitary routine is disrupted by the appearance of a mysterious child who shows up at her cabin barefoot and covered in bruises. The girl calls herself Ursa, and she claims to have been sent from the stars to witness five miracles. Why do good things keep happening in her presence? And why aren't Jo and Gabe checking the missing children's website anymore? Though the three have formed an incredible bond, they know difficult choices must be made. As the summer nears an end and Ursa gets closer to her fifth miracle, her dangerous past closes in. When it finally catches up to them, all of their painful secrets will be forced into the open, and their fates will be left to the stars

"From the number one bestselling author of Little Fires Everywhere, a deeply suspenseful and heartrending novel about the unbreakable love between a mother and child in a society consumed by fear. Twelve-year-old Bird Gardner lives a quiet existence with his loving but broken father, a former linguist who now shelves books in Harvard University's library. Bird knows to not ask too many questions, stand out too much, or stray too far. For a decade, their lives have been governed by laws written to preserve "American culture" in the wake of years of economic instability and violence. To keep the peace and restore prosperity, the authorities are now allowed to relocate children of dissidents, especially those of Asian origin, and libraries have been forced to remove books seen as unpatriotic including the work of Bird's mother, Margaret, a Chinese American poet who left the family when he was nine years old. Bird has grown up disavowing his mother and her poems; he doesn't know her work or what happened to her, and he knows he shouldn't wonder. But when he receives a mysterious letter containing only a cryptic drawing, he is drawn into a quest to find her. His journey will take him back to the many folktales she poured into his head as a child, through the ranks of an underground network of librarians, into the lives of the children who have been taken, and finally to New York City, where a new act of defiance may be the beginning of much-needed change.
